IV. Approval of November 11, 2020 Minutes

Trustee Lyn Stanfield made a motion to approve the Strategic Planning Committee meeting minutes of November 11, 2020. Trustee Beth Kigel seconded the motion; a vote was taken, and the motion passed unanimously.

V. Strategic Planning Committee Charter Review

President Randy Avent explained the latest changes to the Charter further defined the committee’s oversight of the development of Florida Polytechnic University’s Strategic Plan, which occurs every five years.

Trustee Lyn Stanfield inquired as to the addition of Diversity & Inclusion to the Strategic Planning committee, if this had been moved from another committee and if so, which one. President Avent clarified Diversity & Inclusion has always been in the Strategic Planning committee with the presentation of the Equity Report. The new Charter language strengthens and broadens the Diversity & Inclusion discussion past the Equity Report.
This revision includes the following changes:

- Removed the Annual Accountability and Performance Based Funding (PBF) reports
- Added Diversity and Inclusion
- Added a statement regarding facilitation of ad hoc committees to conduct strategic studies

Trustee Beth Kigel made a motion to recommend approval of the Strategic Planning Committee charter with changes to the Board of Trustees. Trustee Lyn Stanfield seconded the motion; a vote was taken, and the motion passed unanimously.

VI. 2020-2022 Strategic Planning Committee Work Plan Review

There were changes to the Work Plan Review as outlined by President Avent. The changes in the work plan more closely align with the new committee Charter.

The Work Plan revisions include the following changes:

- Removed the Annual Accountability and Performance Based Funding (PBF) reports
- Added Diversity and Inclusion

Trustee Earl Sasser made a motion to recommend approval of the Strategic Planning Committee Work Plan with changes to the Board of Trustees. Trustee Ala’ J. Alnaser seconded the motion; a vote was taken, and the motion passed unanimously.

VII. Florida Industrial Phosphate Institute (FIPRI)

Provost Terry Parker presented a report on the Florida Industrial Phosphate Institute (FIPRI), covering its background, mission, funding, and areas of focus. Provost Parker discussed FIPR’s current projects and initiatives and led a discussion on moving FIPR from its current location in Bartow, Florida to the Florida Poly campus.

Provost Parker walked the trustees through the history of the phosphate industry dating from the 1880’s which led to the creation of FIPR in 1978 as an independent state entity to address mining and reclamation, environmental and health effects, reclamation alternatives, wetlands reclamation, phosphatic clay, phosphogypsum disposal and utilization, education and in 2010 broadened to include commercial and industrial activity. In 1994 FIPR was placed within USF and moved to USF Polytechnic in 2010. It became a part of Florida Poly when the university was created in 2012.

The work at FIPR was limited to term research contracts to universities and businesses and remained unchanged until 2017. It is governed by a five-member board that includes the Florida Poly President and is wholly funded through a severance tax on phosphate mining activity of which FIPR receives 5.6%. Expenses have exceeded income for the last ten years but it is expected to break even during this year, in part resulting from changes in the operation and focus of FIPR made by Provost Parker.

The focus has been redefined to allow FIPR to be a strong producer of research based on current phosphate industry and state needs in the areas of water, beneficiation, phosphatic clays, and phosphogypsum use and management. There is lab equipment valued at about $500K that is used to support market-rate testing for the phosphate industry. The current FIPR focus and structure allows FIPR to scale up rapidly when demand for services warrants it.
As a research institute, FIPR’s new focus provides an important launchpad for research at Florida Poly and supports the university’s environmental engineering program by utilizing current FIPR staff and resources that make starting up of the program more efficient.

To gain even greater results Florida Poly must move FIPR to the main campus. Planning is underway for an 8,000 square foot facility which would increase joint research opportunities and create more research synergies.

VIII. Closing Remarks and Adjournment

With no further business to discuss the meeting adjourned at 4:07 p.m.

Proposed Committee Action

Information only – no action required.

Background Information

Florida Poly’s Campus Master Plan was adopted in 2016 and demonstrates the types, general location, and approximate size of buildings on the campus over 10 years. Statute requires that the Campus Master Plan be updated every 5 years. Facilities’ need stem from projected enrollment which determines faculty and staff need, along with various types of space need.

The desired facilities are determined by formulas specified by the Board of Governors. This discussion will focus on the relationships between the CMP, Educational Plant Survey, and funding. The Master Plan Update will include an adjustment in facility priority based on space need. The supporting documentation (Power Point Presentation) will speak to the priorities of facilities, as well as additional parcels allocated for future spaces (P3’s, and FIPRI).

Subject: Diversity and Inclusion Report

Proposed Committee Action

Information only – no action required.

Background Information

In 2017, Florida Polytechnic University established the Diversity and Inclusion Committee comprising staff and faculty tasked with implementing activities that recognize and celebrate the identities and cultures of everyone in our university community. Activities included a Diversity Festival, video profiles of staff members and members of the surrounding community. Town Hall discussions were held to give members of Florida Poly an opportunity to express their views on diversity related topics.

In August of 2020, the University established the Office of Diversity and Inclusion to continue previous activities and to be proactive in helping to increase the diversity among students, faculty, and staff. In addition, the Office would develop policies and practices to ensure that opportunities and treatment are equitable in a wide range of University operations. In October of 2020, Florida Poly’s Chief Diversity Officer organized his counterparts at the other 11 SUS institutions to form the SUS Council of Diversity and Inclusion Officers. They would collaborate to identify and implement best practices and serve as the lead entity for systemwide for efforts related to diversity, equity, and inclusion strategies.

Responding to national incidents of violence and unrest addressing racism and social injustice that occurred in the Spring of 2020, Board of Governors Chair Syd Kitson established a SUS Workgroup on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (D.E.I.) in June 2020 as a subcommittee of the SUS Task Force for the Fall 2020 Semester Opening. The Workgroup included System leaders in academic affairs, student affairs, diversity, equity & inclusion, public safety, human resources, and financial affairs, as well as the Florida Student Association and the Advisory Council of Faculty Senates, and met to share experiences, gain insight, and identify best practices regarding racial equity, diversity, and inclusion in the SUS.

The report of the SUS Workgroup was presented to the SUS Task Force in October 2020 and expressed a clear commitment by the Board of Governors to prioritize and support diversity, equity, and inclusion in the SUS and to hold each university accountable for policies, programs, and actions that will codify and operationalize the System’s commitment. The report identified critical areas that must be addressed by the leadership of each university to integrate D.E.I. initiatives throughout the SUS.

The efforts of the SUS Workgroup culminated in a statement of expectations issued by Board of Governors Vice Chair Brian Lamb. Those expectations were not made mandatory so that university trustees would have the opportunity to address them. Vice Chair Lamb indicated that after an appropriate period, there would be an assessment of progress that would serve as the foundation for determining whether some or all of the expectations would need to be mandatory.

Earlier in 2021, Chancellor Marshall Criser established Chief Diversity Equity and Inclusion Officer who would work with university diversity officers to collaborate and coordinate with SUS campuses to implement strategic initiatives, and promote a culture of equity, diversity and inclusion.

To begin addressing the Board of Governors expectations it is necessary to understand how Florida Poly stands on each of the expectations. To facilitate the Board of Trustees ability to guide and monitor the University we have created a stop light chart that shows our best assessment of our status.

Each expectation is scored on a scale of 1 to 5. A score of 4 or 5 indicates that the University has fully implemented policies, programs and/or activities related to that expectation and is colored green. Yellow (a score of 2 or 3) is assigned to those expectations where implementation is underway but not fully developed. If the University has not begun significant work on an expectation, then a score of 1 is assigned and the is colored red.

This simple chart can give a quick status update of how the University stands regarding each of the expectations from the Board of Governors.
